Harris M. Cook Died Saturday At Biloxi, Miss.

DR. HARRIS M. COOK

Death took a former citizen of Canyon and member of West Texas State faculty Saturday at the Veterans Hospital in Biloxi, Miss.

He was Dr. Harris M. Cook, 56, who served on the faculty from 1924 until his sudden illness in 1946. He had been a patient in the Amarillo Veterans Hospital before transfer to the veterans hospital at Biloxi.

Funeral services were held at Artesia, Miss., Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Cook was the son of a Mississippi state college president and state legislator. He was reared in Artesia, Miss., was graduated from Mississippi State College and later did graduate work at George Peabody College of Nashville, Tenn., where he was awarded the Ph.D. degree in 1930.

He taught secondary education at West Texas State and during most of his tenure also served as dean of men. He was a member of the American Legion and of the Baptist Church.

His work as dean of men brought him into contact with ambitious students, many of whom—especially during the depression years—owed their part-time jobs and educational opportunities to his assistance. Students in difficulties with college authorities knew Dr. Cook as a firm but wise disciplinarian, broadly sympathetic with youth's problems.

During his residence in Canyon, he served on the school board, part of the time as president. He was a past district governor of the Rotary Club.

Journalism Head Arrives to Take Up W. T. Duties

Bill R. Lee, new head of the Department of Journalism of West Texas State College, arrived in Canyon Thursday and is becoming acquainted with the people and his new job. He is a native of Lubbock and took his degree in Journalism at the University of Missouri.

While in Missouri he studied under Dr. Edward Gerald, who is a graduate of the Canyon schools and West Texas State. While living here Mr. Gerald worked on The Canyon News.

Mr. Lee has been at Mississippi State College for Women for the past three years. In his visit to The News office Thursday, he expressed pleasure at the plant, which has printed The Prairie since the paper was founded. "It is one of the most complete plants that I have ever seen," stated Mr. Lee.

Dr. and Mrs. O. H. Loyd Return To Vega Home

Dr. and Mrs. O. H. Loyd returned to their home in Vega Friday after spending two weeks here where Mrs. Loyd has been under treatment at the Neblett Hospital.

"I wish to make two statements about Canyon," said Dr. Loyd before leaving: The hospital is one of the finest small hospitals in Texas; and there is great need for more lights around the College. The stranger who passes through Canyon at night cannot see the wonderful institution which you have here," stated Dr. Loyd.

"I would suggest that a large reflector be placed in front of the main building if you cannot have more," in urging more lights, said the Doctor.

The News overlooked another donation which Dr. and Mrs. Loyd had placed on the campus. This is the electric organ which was given to the Memorial Chapel, located south of Cousins Hall.

Church Workers of City Left Monday For Trip to Canada

Joe F. Watson, minister of the Canyon Church of Christ, with a party of ten other members of the Church of Christ in this area, left for Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada, early Monday morning. The Canyon church sent Alvin Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Jennings, to Saskatoon to do mission work several months ago. He has done an outstanding work up there and Mr. Watson is being sent there for a meeting by the local church.

Others in the party were Mrs. Joe F. Watson and son, Joe, Mrs. R. H. Jennings, Don Stone, Dorothy Brown, Peggy Maynard, Geneva Ann Devin, Beulah Moody of Happy; a niece and nephew of Mrs. Watson's from Oklahoma.

City Planning A New Sewage Disposal Plant

A new sewage disposal plant is being planned for Canyon, announced City Secretary Dudley Bayne this week. He said the City Commission would call an election sometime in June to decide upon the issuance of revenue bonds in the amount of $130,000.

Approximately $110,000 of this money will be used for the construction of a new sewage disposal plant. The plant is to be located southeast of the city. The remaining $20,000 is to be used for extensions of water mains and additional fire hydrants.

Bayne said the growth of the city made it imperative that a new disposal plant be constructed. The existing sewage disposal plant was built to take care of approximately 2,500 people. The population of Canyon is almost twice that figure.

The old plant was described as being exceedingly expensive both from the standpoint of repairs and operation. It is built in such a manner that sewage cannot flow naturally and two pumping stations must be used. These are expensive to maintain and keep in operation. The new plant will be built in such a manner that no pumping stations will be required. All sewage will have a natural flow.

In eliminating the two sewage lift stations, the new plant will cut down on expenses which will go a long way toward retirement of the bonds, Bayne explained. He went on to point out that the new sewage lines would require little or no maintenance which would be another cut in operating expense.

Location of the plant will be such that even as the town continues to grow, it will have adequate sewage disposal. The sewage will also flow naturally so that no pumping stations will be required.

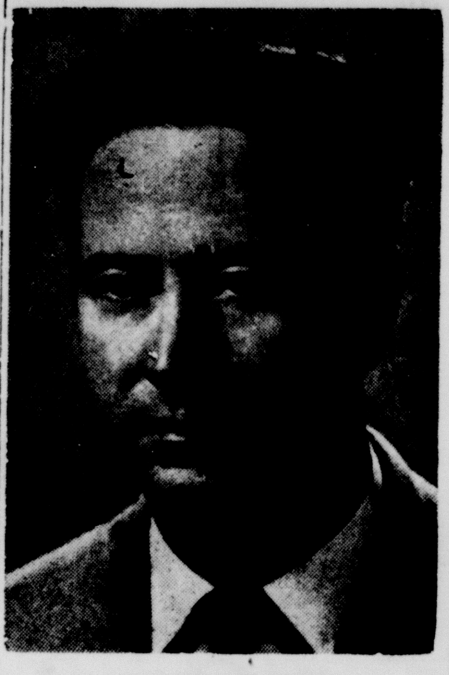
Houston Bright To Receive His Ph.D. Degree



HOUSTON BRIGHT

Houston Bright, associate professor of music at West Texas State College, will receive his Ph.D. degree in music next Saturday from the University of Southern California. His major field was musicology.

A faculty member at WT since 1940, Bright was acting head of the department of music this year. He will teach during the second term of summer school. He holds the B.S. and M.A. degrees in music from WT.

Bright's doctoral dissertation, "The Early Tudor Part-Song," is a study of music during the reigns of Henry VII and Henry VIII of England. His research was done from microfilms from the British Museum.

Director of the West Amarillo Christian Church choir, Bright is the author of an article, "The Madrigal in the Repertoire of the Modern Chorus," in the Southwestern Musician, and is composer of a number of a cappella choruses for mixed voices. Two of those familiar to Panhandle audiences are "Weep You No More, Sad Fountains," and "Evening Song of the Weary." His "Symphonic Dance" was played in 1951 by the Amarillo Symphony.

Two short pieces for brass quartets, and three choruses, "Lament of the Enchantress," "Three Quatrains from the Rubaiyat or Omar Khayyam," and "Never Tell Thy Love," are under contract to be published by Associated Music Publishers. A number of piano compositions have been played by WT faculty members and advanced students on the campus and in the Panhandle region.

Arthur B. Duncan, III Made Elder and Sent To Church at Kemp

Arthur B. Duncan, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Duncan, was ordained as elder in the First Methodist Church at Dallas Sunday in the closing meeting of the North Central Conference. Just two years ago he was ordained as deacon.

For the past year he has been pastor at Chico, Texas. He was assigned to the Kemp First Methodist Church as their pastor for the ensuing year. His promotion to the larger church was the result of the remarkable success he has had in his assignment for the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Duncan and Miss Johnie Courtney attended services at the conference Sunday morning and Sunday afternoon when 35 deacons and 15 elders were ordained. They visited with Rev. and Mrs. Duncan in Chico and returned home Monday.

She died Saturday at St. Anthony's hospital in Amarillo. Survivors other than the parents include maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Chambers of Amarillo, and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Johnson of Canyon.

Mrs. Max Barnard and Mrs. Charlie Sutton left Monday for McFadden, Wyoming, to visit Mrs. Buster Poston.

Don Standley Attends Banker's School Two Weeks

Don E. Standley, Assistant Vice President of the First National Bank, is currently attending the School of Banking of the South which is being held at Louisiana State University, at Baton Rouge, La., for a two week period. The school began on June 1st, and will be climaxed by graduation exercises on Friday, June 13.

The School is sponsored by bankers associations of nine southern states in cooperation with the University. It offers a two weeks course once a year, over a period of three years, with top-flight instructors in the banking field. Between sessions the students carry on extension work.

Following successful completion of their courses banker-students are awarded diplomas signifying graduation from the School. This year 72 bankers will receive these certificates.

Mr. Standley went to the school with the National Bank Examiner from this area, who are required to attend the sessions.

Military Training To Start With Opening of the New Fall Session

West Texas State College's new Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit, first of its kind in the nation, will allow students here to choose their own branch of the Army, and, during its four-year program, provide general information and instruction in all of the Army's 16 departments.

First steps in establishing the program, to be in operation in September, are already being made, according to Dr. James P. Cornette, president of the college. Designated sponsor of the new unit, Lt. Col. John W. Murray, professor of military science and tactics at Texas Christian University, will come to Canyon within the next few days to consult with Dr. Cornette, concerning facilities and to review requirements. An advance contingent of the Army's instructional staff will arrive on the campus before the end of June to make preliminary arrangements before the full compliment assumes duty.

Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State College, far right, has explained to several interested students, the presence of the R. O. T. C. sign above one of the buildings formerly used by the college physical education staff. The R. O. T. C. program will begin operation in September.

Under the new R.O.T.C. "Branch General," which is also being instituted in 24 other colleges and universities, the students will study a military curriculum designed to give a basic knowledge of the Army's different branches. Its purpose is to provide reserve officers with a broader concept and better understanding of the entire service.

In their senior year, candidates select their own branch, on the basis of aptitudes and availability of openings, and, upon graduation, receive a commission and enter one of the specialized service schools for three months' training; this training period supplants the summer camps formerly attended by candidates between their junior and senior years at college.

Beginning this fall, all men classified as freshmen and sophomores will take a basic military science course, instead of the previously required physical education course, according to Dr. Cornette. According to selective service policies, during these two years, the student would be deferred from military service, but he would have made no commitment for future military service, the president explained.

"At the end of his second year, he will be free to choose whether or not to enter the advanced R.O.T.C. program. He may remain in college as a civilian student, subject to his local selective service board's jurisdiction," Dr. Cornette said. "If he chooses to go into advanced R.O.T.C. training, he will, upon completion of his work at the end of his senior year, receive in addition to his Bachelor's degree, his commission in the organized reserve corps or national guard."

Distinguished military graduates may receive a commission in the regular Army, comparable to that given West Point graduates, according to Lt. Col. Leon Lavoie at Fourth Army Headquarters at Fort Sam Houston. Students with high efficiency ratings and with sound scholarship records at the end of the junior year, will be designated "Distinguished Military Students,"

Two Brothers Sent To Boys' Ranch

Cal Farley, head of Boys' Ranch at Old Tascosa, and an assistant, showed up at a hearing of two brothers here in Canyon last Wednesday and arranged to get the brothers admitted to Boys' Ranch. A spokesman for Sheriff Cantrell said that all members of that department were much happier to see young boys get into Boys' Ranch than end up in the reform school.

Deputy Sheriff Lem Pounds and his wife took the two boys to Boys' Ranch Saturday. Pounds said they arrived there just as the dinner bell was ringing. He said that they made their way to the mess hall where 159 boys gathered for a family style dinner.

The deputy sheriff went on to say that the boys were extremely orderly in taking their places at the tables in the mess hall. Upon finishing the meal each boy carried his dishes back to be washed.

Pounds said the food was wholesome and plentiful. Some of the items which he recalled as being on the table were baked ham, green beans, vegetable salad, creamed corn, gravy, bread, butter, onions, pickles, apple butter, orange juice, coffee, catsup and peanut butter.

CROP Saves Lives Of Thousands in Starving India

Mrs. Ethel Mulvany, returned missionary, spoke Sunday night at the Methodist Church on the work of "CROP" in the Near East. She was preceded by Rev. William E. Fisher, who has been assigned to head this work in the 21 counties of the Panhandle where 21 carloads of grain were assembled last year. Rev. Fisher reported that Iowa lead the nation in CROP gifts last year, while Texas was second.

Mrs. Mulvany and her husband were in China when the Japs took over and were prisoners of the Japs for more than three years. She told of the distress among the people as the result of Communism. There are millions of starving people in India today who could be saved through small donations of food by American citizens who are wasting this amount of food.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Key and daughter, Sylvia, and Bill Hood spent Sunday in Dumas visiting with Mrs. Clara Peters who was in the hospital there following a car accident several weeks ago. Mrs. Hood, who had been there for several days, returned home with them.

Alarming Crop Of Grasshoppers Appear in Area

"From several reports that have come from various parts of the county it appears as if we are in for some grasshopper trouble," said County Agent John Brazzil early this week. He said the young hoppers are already beginning to hatch out and move into gardens, lawns and field crops.

The extension worker stated that as long as the grass is green the hoppers will continue to feed on it. But as the grass dries out they will move on to fresher, greener crops which will create severe damage.

It was also pointed out that now is the best time to apply insecticide. This is because the hoppers can be caught before they move from the lush grass area. If proper control measures are applied now the cost will be much smaller than control measures taken after the grasshoppers have moved into crops and gardens.

A spray containing chlordane, toxaphene or aldrin in a mixture with water will give good results in getting rid of the young hoppers. The spray should be made in accordance with the manufacturer's directions on the label. In applying the spray a thorough job should be done to cover fence rows and weedy grass areas where the young hoppers are hatching.

The residual effect of the spraying job will last from five to seven days. The process should be repeated if control of the area is not gained with the first spray.

Vegetables should not be sprayed with this material. Another precautionary measure should be taken with livestock. They should be removed from the sprayed area for a period of one week or ten days.

Swimming Lessons Are Given at Pool

Swimming instruction is now available for non-swimmers from 9:15 until 10:15 a. m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at the outdoor pool at West Texas State.

The instructor is Carroll Vaughn, who managed the swimming pool last summer. Those desiring lessons contact Borden Price, pool manager, by calling either 505 or 582J.

The first lesson will be given Wednesday, June 18. Fees will be 30 cents per lesson.

Candidate for Tax Assessor Retires From County Race

CHAS. W. L. HUTCHISON

According to a letter from Blythe, Calif., Chas. W. L. Hutchison has been selected as business manager of the Palo Verde Unified School District, Riverside County, Calif., and has withdrawn from the race for Tax Assessor and Collector of Randall County.

Mr. Hutchison filed his political application with Democratic County Chairman Newton Crain on the night of the final date for filing. He planned to return to Canyon at the end of his school year and start his campaign.

"I am offered a position which I feel that I could not refuse due to the promise of professional achievement in that field," stated Mr. Hutchison.

Mr. Hutchison states that he appreciates the many kind words which he has received regarding his candidacy, and wishes to convey his regrets in not being able to continue in the campaign. However, the position offered him in California pays a higher salary than the one for which he was running, and the work was in the line with his duties of the past few years.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Eisenhower Speaks Like a Seasoned Political Figure

General Eisenhower made his first political speech Wednesday afternoon. No political gathering in recent years has attracted so much attention as did this one, staged by the returning General who is out to win the Republican nomination for President.

The thing which appealed to the voters of both parties is his open break with President Truman on both Foreign and Domestic policies.

The General did not mince words. He spoke frankly to the nation.

As we listened we could not keep from comparing the words of Eisenhower with those of General MacArthur. The former speaks rapidly and to the point; the latter is much more deliberate and selective in his language.

Both are great soldiers, and the results of Eisenhower's Republican campaign will be watched with interest from all people of the nation. While MacArthur has repeatedly said he would not be a candidate under any circumstance, his dislike for Truman could force him into the race if the President is in the running.

Eisenhower's case is different. He was pushed into the running, perhaps not so much objectionable to himself as it would be for MacArthur.

While military men have as a rule been poor executives, we are prone to believe that Eisenhower's training as head of Columbia University and his closer contact with the people than MacArthur better fits him for the job.

However, we are not backing down on a previous declaration that Senator Robert Taft is the best equipped man in the race, but has the poorest appeal to the voters as a whole. If his wife were in good health and could make the campaign with him, Taft would be in better graces with the voters. His frankness has not always proved popular with the voters.

The Constitution Still Stands In Spite of the Truman Antics

Amazing as it may seem, the constitution of the United States still stands!!!

Those who have followed the decisions of the Supreme Court were somewhat amazed at the decision of the court against the President in the steel case. Truman had declared that he was the supreme authority in seizing the steel mills. It was rather surprising to see three of the sanest men on the court agree with him.

The nation has become so accustomed to having the Supreme Court follow the distatorship of the White House that its decision was more or less a revelation as to what the people might expect in the future.

When the court set the President back, the chief simply folded his hands and is allowing nature to take its course. He has refused to use his powers under the Taft-Hartley Law, which was passed over his veto, and which is so distasteful to him. He has declared the law anti-labor legislation, in spite of the fact that Senator Taft was re-elected to his office in the face of bitter labor opposition in a strongly laborite state of Ohio.

It is hard to determine just what the results may be. The President will feed the strikers under the present laws as long as they remain out.

We are convinced that fully 90% of all laboring men would prefer to remain on their jobs rather than strike at any time if they were allowed to vote their sentiments rather than be brow beaten into a strike by the racketeer labor leaders.

"Let 'em Quit if They Don't Like Their Jobs" Cried Lawmakers

Twenty-five years ago when we first served in the House of Representatives down at Austin we were amazed to hear lawmakers criticise college faculty members, and in their denunciation the battle cry was: "If they don't like their jobs, let them quit."

Perhaps conditions have improved down at Austin so far as the faculty members are concerned, but what about the heads of these educational institutions? The University of Texas, A. & M. College, and Texas Tech are all looking for presidents.

Of course they will probably be able to induce some educator from a distance to come to Texas and take over the jobs. What will happen after they land in Texas and find out how the heads of institutions are treated? Your guess is as good as that of any other person.

Here is the way one retiring president put it: "Down at Austin they do not want educators to fill the job of president; all they want is bookkeepers especially someone who will refuse to spend any money for the development of education in Texas."

We shall see what we shall see.

Lowly Nickel Still Buys a Lot Of Things in Spite of Inflation

In this day of high cost of living, it is refreshing to look around and see a lot of items on the market which have not advanced in price during this inflationary period.

Take chewing gum, for instance. The lowly nickel package still sells at a nickel. Perhaps the dealers have been tempted at times to raise the price because of the higher cost of doing business. But the price still holds. Soft drinks are likewise in the nickel class.

Chewing still holds good, as chewing tobacco still sells at the same old price.

Shoe laces, nickel slot machines, zinnia seeds and aspirin are still selling at pre-war prices.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics the retail prices on 18 items of wear have not increased since 1947.

On the other hand, television sets have declined radically during the past months. This is a comparatively new gadget on the market, with no pattern of price to go by. But the ultimate consumer, the fellow who buys the product, profits.

Let it be understood that prices hold or are reduced under free competition, and are not set by some government bureaucrat who knows nothing about the article which he is seeking to control.

No wonder Congress is pretty bitter about all of this price control business and has threatened to kick the whole kit and caboodle out of the window. However, let it be remembered that Congressmen are only your representatives in making the laws. Unless you make your opinions known to your representatives in Washington they have no idea as to how you feel.

Unwise Spendings Items Are Declared for "National Defense"

The Canyon News has called your attention a number of times to the silly manner in which YOUR tax money is being wasted in Washington.

Here is a list of more foolish spending, brought about by the Truman budget which declares that only essential items were included in the budget:

Handbook No. 26 in the Department of Agriculture is not the most useless document in the nation as it attempts to show agricultural workers how to write intelligent letters and articles for the public. But it is not a Defense measure.

The Air Force has been condemned for its extravagance, yet we read that 155 historians are employed to record the history of this department of government.

The Republic of Indonesia is protesting that our government is seeking to force the people of that nation to accept foreign aid, regardless of the lack of need and the lack of interest in such a loan.

Government agents draw salaries ranging from $4,000 to $7,316 per year, which is far above the average salaries paid to civilians.

The Ordnance Department took 11 newspaper men on a free 17,000 mile jaunt from Detroit to Korea in an "educational campaign!"

About two-thirds of all patients in Veterans hospitals are being treated for ailments that are in no way connected with their military service. The Hoover Commission found that when beds in veterans hospitals are not available, veterans with service-connected ailments are farmed out to high priced hospitals in order to make room for other veterans.

The government is buying back billions of dollars worth of property which it sold three years ago for 10% of its cost.

As a defense project, the administration is buying an old Revolutionary War fort near New York, and restoring muzzle-loading guns, with a room used for heating round shots. This is a very necessary defense project when wooden ships of the Revolutionary War type try to take New York City.

The Navy ordered all of its belts 45-inches, but found that six inches were being cut off and thrown away by the gobs. This is another of the silly purchases of the armed forces.

Congress in 1946 had 95 committees, which has since grown to 203 committees with 156 sub-committees. There are no rooms for all these committees.

The President insists that his Fair Practice program is a part of National Defense.

And so on and so on. Senator Lyndon Johnson has revealed a number of other wastes of government in addition to those above pointed out.

Kefauver Leads Democrats but May Be Thrown to the Wolves

Senator Kefauver will go to the Democratic Convention with the largest number of pledged votes of any of the potential candidates. He has staged a widespread campaign which has taken him into most states of the Union.

Regardless of your ideas about the Tennessee Senator, he has made an impressive campaign for a freshman senator who is campaigning largely on intestinal fortitude. We are still of the opinion that he is on trial with the brass hats of the Democratic party. If these boys feel that the Republicans have put up a winning candidate, they will probably feed Kefauver to the wolves; but if the breech in the Republican party widens by the nomination of an undesirable candidate, the young Senator will have made the campaign in vain.

Amarillo National Bank Boon to Area

The largest bank in the Panhandle, Amarillo National Bank, faithfully serves this territory and has become one of the most widely and favorably known financial institutions of the Southwest. They offer the public a complete banking service and have a reputation for being a conservative and reliable institution with all deposits guaranteed by the FDIC up to $10,000. Their resources are over $72,500,000.00.

Since this bank's inception it has grown and developed as the community itself has prospered. By its adequate banking facilities it is playing an important part in the growth and development of the Panhandle.

Here you will find every banking facility. Their savings department is one of the most patronized services offered. They have been the mainstay for many ranchers, businesses and individuals as they are vitally interested in the progress of the agricultural and business life of our people.

All officers and directors are local citizens and are of faultless character and good judgment. Through their efforts and knowledge of banking this institution has gained its prominent position as a leader in banking circles of the Southwest.

El Rancho Cafe Top Eating Place

Rapidly gaining popularity because of their superior food, El Rancho Cafe, 3505 South Fillmore in Amarillo, has gained the praise of all those who have patronized them.

The genial owner, Terry Lomax, will go out of his way to see that you receive the best of service and that your order is cooked just like you want it. Mr. Lomax has had a lifetime's experience in the restaurant business. He uses only U. S. Choice Steaks, fresh Seafoods which are received daily, their menu of Mexican foods is most complete, and their special Fried Chicken is the very best.

El Rancho Cafe is open 24 hours, every day, and there is always plenty of parking space. Many people from this trade area make it a point to stop by and have lunch or dinner at El Rancho whenever they go to Amarillo shopping and make special trips to this popular place for Sunday Dinner.

We are glad in this review edition of our paper to compliment Terry Lomax for the good service El Rancho Cafe extends and the delicious food which they serve and it is little wonder they have become so popular. If you have never eaten at El Rancho, we suggest that you stop in on your very next trip to Amarillo, enjoy one of their U. S. Choice Steaks, special Fried Chicken, your favorite Seafood, or one of their deliciously authentic Mexican Dinners.

We are sure that you will be so pleased, you will look forward to going back again and becoming one of their regular patrons.

Pomona, Calif. — Because there are so many Smiths around, Michael Burr Smith went to court to win the right to be known as Michael Smith Warwick—Warwick being his wife's maiden name. Now her name is the same as before they were married. Their son, Paul Warwick, 14, becomes Paul Smith Warwick.

DOG BURIED WITH MASTER

Honeoye Falls, N. Y. — When Albert W. Badgley, 69, suffered a heart attack at the wheel of his automobile, the car struck a tree but Trixie, a little terrier pet of Badgley's, was uninjured. However, Mrs. Thelma Bowen, Badgley's daughter, said her father wanted Trixie to be "put to sleep by a veterinarian" and buried with him. His wish was carried out.

FREIGHT EQUALITY

After decades of fighting, Southern manufacturers have achieved equality of freight rates and can ship their products at the same freight rate per mile as Northern manufacturers. The Interstate Commerce Commission has rejected protests and ordered uniform "class" rates throughout the country, except west of the Rockies. It also ordered a uniform system of freight classification throughout the country. The rulings took effect on May 30th.

OLD STORY, BUT GOOD

A country doctor in Spain came upon a peasant whose burro had just balked. The peasant asked for help, and the doctor reached down into his medicine case, found some powders and gave them to the animal.

The burro switched his tail, tossed his head and started on a mad gallop down the road.

The peasant looked at the doctor, "How much did the medicine cost, Senor Doctor?" he asked.

"About two pesetas," answered the doctor.

"Give me five pesetas' worth, then," said the peasant, "Ive got to catch that burro!"

FREELY TRANSLATED

An Aberdeenian on a visit to a friend in London overstayed his welcome. It was getting toward Christmas and his host thought a kindly hint would have the desired result.

"Don't you think," he said, "that your wife and family will want you to be with them at Christmas?"

"Mon," replied the Aberneeian, "I believe you're right. It's rale thotfu' o' you. I'll send for them."

LAST OF THE HOGS

Some years ago a college president spent several weeks in a backwoods community. He received a letter from the landlady, asking him to return. In reply he stated that he should like to but would require some changes.

"First," he wrote, "your maid Mary is a persona non grata. Secondly, I think the sanitary conditions would be improved if the pigs could be moved a little farther from the dining room window."

The president was reassured when he received the following reply: "Mary has went. We ain't had no hogs since you were here last summer. Be sure and come."

TIME TO SMILE

Rogers - Morton Nuptial Vows Read In Church Ceremony Friday Evening

MR. AND MRS. BILLY CARL MORTON

In an impressive double ring service Carlene Genell Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Rogers, became the bride of Billy Carl Morton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Anthony, on Friday evening, June 6, in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church.

Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor, read the rites at the altar flanked by white aisle posts joined by white satin ropes. Greenery and baskets of gladioli flanked with seven-branched candelabra holding white tapers formed the background. To complete the altar decorations the chancel rail was draped in white satin caught at intervals and tied with white satin bows and fern.

Miss Ann Holt, organist, played "Through the Years" and "I Love You Truly" and accompanied Mrs. Elwyn Morton, who sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "Because" as prenuptial solos, and "The Lord's Prayer" as benediction to the rites. Traditional wedding marches were played for the processional and recessional.

Gayle and Gene Rogers, brother and sister of the bride, lighted the candles. Joyce Cook of Haskell, dressed in pink nylon net over taffeta, and Kaye England of Atlanta, Georgia, dressed in orchid nylon net over taffeta, were flower girls. Ronald and Donald Hamblen, cousins of the bride, were ring bearers.

Miss Wanda Lou Rogers, serving her sister as matron of honor, wore a light pink taffeta gown with white net overskirt and cape. Her headdress was of white net with clusters of pink flowers on each side. Her bouquet was of pink asters.

Miss Sarah Jane Colwell, bridesmaid, wore a gown of light orchid taffeta with net overskirt and net cape over a strapless bodice. Her headpiece was of matching illusion with large bows on each side. Her bouquet was orchid asters. Miss Barbara Glanton, bridesmaid, wore a gown of darker orchid taffeta identical to Miss Colwell's. Her bouquet was of lighter asters.

Elwyn Morton served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Ray Burrus and Garland Butler. Ushers were Wayne Davis, Guy Hamblen, Dell Rogers, and Bob Busteed.

Escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was lovely in a nylon tulle gown over slipper satin. The fitted bodice was designed with a deep point in front and back and accented by appliqued lace. The portrait neckline was complimented with pleated nylon tulle. Long sleeves of nylon tulle tapered to points over the wrists. The gracefully draped skirt extended into a cathedral train. Her seedpearl-embroidered, finger-tip, illusion veil was joined to a Juliet cap with imported Swiss orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by white stephanotis atop a white Bible. She wore a lavalier belonging to an aunt for something borrowed and something old. Something new was a sweetheart bracelet of silver and rhinestones, a gift of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Rogers chose a pink taffeta and lace gown with lace cape and pink and navy accessories. Her corsage was blush pink cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Anthony, mother of the bridegroom, wore an aqua sheer and lace gown with lace jacket and cocoa brown accessories. Her corsage was brown cymbidium orchids.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents honored the bridal party with a reception in the parlor of the church. Miss Laura Smith played background music and Miss Mona Beth Gillham registered the guests.

The bride's table was centered with pink and orchid asters. Three-tiered wedding cake, marked with pink roses and orchid sweetpeas and flanked by crystal candelabra bearing pink tapers, was served by Mrs. Wayne Davis, sister of the bridegroom.

Presiding at the punch bowl was Mrs. T. H. Burrow, aunt of the bride. Assisting in the house party were Mesdames Roy Cook, Charles England, Doris Gillham, Jack Parsons and Misses Elaine Cundiff, Janie Jennings and Peggy Bonds.

For a wedding trip to Miami, Florida, and other points of interest the bride wore a navy lace dress with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Morton is a student in Canyon High School, where she plans to continue her studies. Mr. Morton is a graduate of Canyon High School and has completed one year at West Texas State, where he plans to continue in school.

After June 20 they will be at home at 1602 Eighth Avenue.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rogers of Stamford, grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Burrow of North Hollywood, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Rogers, Dell and Bobby of Stamford; Mrs. Roy Cook and Joyce of Haskell; Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Morton of Wichita Falls; Mrs. Charles England and Kaye of Atlanta, Georgia.

On Thursday evening the parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Anthony, entertained with a rehearsal dinner at the Cowboy Cafe. There were 33 guests.

Local Boys Take Calves to Sale At Fort Worth

Last week the Randall County Junior Livestock Association gave $360 in prize money to feeders of commercial calves. E. M. Myers, secretary-treasurer for the organization, said that a $10 prize was given for choice calves, $7.50 for good calves, $5 for commercial calves and $2.50 for feeders.

The 53 head of calves which were taken to Fort Worth last week sold for a total of $17,030.93. The association arranged transportation for 45 head of these cattle. Bob Ratliff took eight head of cattle but he had his own transportation.

Harold Dean Johnston sold the highest priced calf. His calf brought $408.80. His calf tipped the scales at slightly more than 1184 pounds and brought 34½ cent per pound. Shrinkage for the entire 53 head was said to average 2.967 pounds per head. Actually, the calves loaded out at a slightly smaller weight here Saturday than they carried when they entered the Fort Worth sale ring the following Monday morning.

There were 45 feeder calves which the boys were raising; 35 of these were sold in Amarillo and 10 of them are being placed on summer grass.

Those taking calves to Ft. Worth were: George Dowlen, 2 calves; Ted Lowe, 4; Foster Parker, 6; Harold Johnston, 6; Ray Burrus, 5; Allen Downing, 3; Sterling Cummings, 9; Jimmy Sanders, 3; Curtis Stroup, 1; Garland Ruthart, 2; Jimmy Simon, 2; Jimmy Kuhlman, 1; A. G. House, 1; and Bob Ratliff, 8.

BOYCE HOUSE Gives You Texas

The San Saba Star published these lines:

If everyone who drives a car would lie a month in bed
With broken bones and stitched-up wounds or fractures of the head,
And there endure the agonies as many people do,
They'd never need preach safety any more to me or you.
If everyone could stand beside the bed of some close friend
And hear the doctor say "No hope" before the fatal end,
And see him there unconscious, never knowing what took place,
The laws and rules of traffic, I am sure, we'd soon embrace.
If one could meet the wife and children left to moan,
And step into the darkened home where once the sunlight shone,
And look upon the vacant chair where Daddy used to sit,
I'm sure each reckless driver would be forced to think a bit.
If everyone would realize pedestrians on the street
Have just as much the right of way as those upon the seat,
And train their eyes for children who run recklessly at play,
This steady toll of human lives would drop from day to day.
And last, if he who takes the wheel would say a little prayer,
And keep in mind those in the car depending on his care,
And make a vow and pledge himself to never take a chance
The great crusade for safety then would suddenly advance.

And they say a new lima bean has been developed — I believe up in Collin County — that's really a quick grower. You just plant the poles, stick the seed in the ground and jump clear!

Bible Verse to Study

"Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and cleave unto his wife: and they shall be one flesh."

1. Where does this passage occur in the Bible?
2. To what couple does it refer?
3. In what place did they live?
4. What two names did this husband give his wife?

Bible Verse Answers

1. Genesis 2: 14.
2. Adam and Eve.
3. The Garden of Eden.
4. "Woman" (verse 23) and "Eve" (verse 20, chapter 3.)

FAIR ENOUGH

"Will," said a newly married friend of Will Maupin, the Nebraska poet, "I'm in a quandry as to just what I should call my wife's mother. I don't like to call her mother-in-law on account of all the comic-paper jokes on that name, but somehow there's a certain sacredness about 'Mother' that makes me hesitate to apply it to any but my own."

"Well," replied Maupin, who was a rather rough-and-ready sort of fellow. "I can tell you my own experience. The first year we were married I addressed my wife's mother as 'Say'; after that we simply called her 'Grandma'."

FAST WORKERS

A Chaplain, serving his first day on an aircraft carrier somewhere in the Pacific, sat down for mess with some enlisted men. The speed with which the navy men stowed away their food intrigued him.

His own account of what happened was:

"I bowed my head to say a few words of grace, and when I looked up again, a waiter asked me what I wanted for dessert."

NO PLACE

"Going my way, honey?"

"Look, sailor, the public street is no place to address a young woman whose address is 2729 East One hundred and ninety-ninth street, phone Melechrom 8-6583 party R."

FRANKNESS

"And as you can see there are no moving parts to get out of order," said the frank used-car dealer to his customer.

Tradewind Airport Most Progressive

Keeping abreast with the modern trend of aviation and offering most complete services to this area, Tradewind Airport, located at 1101 E. 34th (Corner of Garfield) in Amarillo has made an outstanding record. They are distributors for BEECHCRAFT planes and offer factory certified service. They have sold many of the planes used throughout this area by individuals and are always glad to consult with prospective buyers and will go out of their way to make them an attractive deal.

Under the able management of R. E. Siler, Tradewind Airport offers the very best in charter service, using the most modern single and multi-engine planes, which are always kept ready and in the very best of condition. They offer, at the most reasonable rates, transportation for groups to conventions, football games, week-end trips, vacations and tours. Their services are used by many for business trips. They also maintain aerial ambulance service.

They offer complete hanger facilities for privately owned planes and have the very best in aircraft engine repair service, which is approved by the C. A. A. Their mechanics are thoroughly experienced and their shop is most modernly equipped. Only factory engineered parts are used.

We are pleased in this review edition of our paper to single out R. E. Siler, the manager of Tradewind Airport, for public mention and to compliment his entire organization. They offer a real service to our community and in the conduct of their business have made many friends throughout the Panhandle.

Robert Doughton, chairman of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee, is not now inclined to give Republicans another chance to vote an increase in monthly pensions for old people. The House voted down an increase when the American Medical Association objected to some of the wording in the bill. The feeling is that this action will give Democrats an important issue in November.

The French charged U. S. a high price for their signing of a German peace contract. Even before the French Parliament has ratified the contract, U. S. is being committed to giving France more dollar aid, bigger arms shipments to France and to Indo-China, as well as a promise to let the French be as hard-boiled as they want in Tunisia.

The highest American officials really were astonished when only 70,000 out of 170,000 Communists held in Korea as prisoners expressed a willingness to go home. In Europe, high officials still do not believe that.

5-TRUCK PILEUP KILLS 2

E. Chicago Heights, Ill. — Two truck drivers were killed and another injured in a pile-up of five tractor-trailer trucks in a fog on Route 30 and State Street. Edward Brown, of E. St. Louis, Ill., driving a truck carrying five race horses slowed his truck because of the fog. The pile-up followed. One of the drivers was killed when he went to the rear of his truck to set out a flare. The other died when the load of steel on his truck shifted forward, pinning him against the rear of the next truck.

CONGRESS

With just a few weeks left before the political conventions open in Chicago, prospects are that Congress will not be able to adjourn before the conventions but will have to come back to Washington to finish up. So far, not one of the bills that comprise the absolute minimum program has gone to the White House, including the appropriations bills, foreign aid bills, defense production act, war powers, etc.

DIZZY HOME FOR BIRDS

Cleveland, O. — One family of young robins at Euclid Beach Park will probably grow up to fly in circles. Their mother built their home on an electrically lighted bulb at the top of a merry-go-round. It rotates as the merry-go-round revolves, but at a slower pace.

Dean Acheson, U. S. Secretary of State, is mildly annoyed, to say the least, because no high official in Europe or Britain came out with a ringing defense of this country against Communist charges that it is waging germ warfare in Korea. Mr. Acheson is a bit annoyed, too, by the tendency in Great Britain to suggest that the U. S. Army used pressure to induce Communist prisoners to say that they did not want to go home.

Both Sam Rayburn, House Speaker, and Alben Barkley, Vice President, are willing that the lightning should strike them if the Democrats prove unable to agree on anyone else to head their ticket this year. The sky is beginning to be filled with Democratic lightning rods on the theory that anything can happen.

Averell Harriman, foreign-aid administrator and presidential candidate, is proposing that this country use stock-piling billions to buy up raw materials from abroad even if the materials are not really needed. The idea would be to bolster the economics of nations that are hard up.

The Office of International Trade ended all quota restrictions on export of Government-produced general-purposes synthetic rubber as domestic production continued to increase.

It's too bad that the future generations can't be here to help us spend their money.

President Truman is getting all steamed up for a nation-wide barnstorming tour of attack against the "big interests." The President is convinced that an attack on big business will make as many votes now as it has done in the past.

EXPORTS TO SOVIET

Secretary Sawyer, of the Commerce Department, reports that only $55,000 worth of U. S. goods was exported to the Soviet in 1951 and that shipments to Communist China consisted of only "a few books," which cost $181. All exports of military or strategic significance to the Soviet bloc have been stopped.

Dwight Eisenhower is making it clear that he will carry away no grudges if Republicans decide that they do not want him to head their ticket this year. He is not mad at anybody and does not intend to be.

Gen. Matthew Ridgway's plan for ending the war in Korea, like that of other U. S. military commanders, calls for air-borne and amphibious operations to seal off and then to destroy Communist armies. Political considerations, however, call for no effort to win the war that is dragging on.

ROTC To Open at West Texas State

and if they sustain their records, they will become "Distinguished Military Graduates." About 1200 officers a year are obtained for the Army in this manner to supplement the Military Academy's graduates. All graduates receive commissions as second lieutenants.

An additional feature of the program, Lt. Col. Lavoie said, is that veterans with 12 months or more of service may enter directly into the advanced course, and veterans of six months' service will be credited with the first year of the program.

The new program will be open to students already holding deferment under the College Deferment Plan, with the first two years of basic courses required, as with other students, and with the advanced courses elective. Students who will be sophomores this fall will be allowed to combine regular sophomore and junior military courses in their junior year, and thus complete the training in three years, regardless of whether their freshman year's work was done at WT or at some other institution.

R.O.T.C. students at West Texas State for the first two years, will meet classes three hours a week, for one semester hour's credit. Advanced students will attend classes five hours weekly, for three semester hours' credit.

Advanced students will draw pay of $27 a month, although a bill now before Congress would increase the amount to $50. Uniforms will be issued, and on required days will be worn on campus. Students in basic training will wear green trousers and blouses, while those in the advanced division will be issued gray drab (Pinks) trousers to contrast with the green blouses, with all uniforms regular officers' apparel.

The official personnel at West Texas State will include a commanding officer with the rank of lieutenant colonel, a major, a captain, and five enlisted men, all non-commissioned officers. The commanding officer will be professor of military science and tactics. Nominations of men to fill these posts will be submitted to Dr. Cornette for approval.

Preliminary plans will be made by two men, one officer and one enlisted man, arriving this month. They will order supplies, uniforms, equipment, and will set up physical facilities. No heavy equipment will be used at West Texas State, but it will include rifles, mortars, recoiless rifles, bridging and transportation material.

Headquarters for the West Texas State R.O.T.C. unit will be located in the building near Burton Gym, which was formerly used by the physical education staff. A sign, across the front of the building, has already been hung.

The 16 branches of the service which will be open to West Texas State graduates include: Antiaircraft Artillery, Armor, Field Artillery, Infantry, Chemical Corps, Corps of Engineers, Corps of Military Police, Medical Corps, Ordnance Department, Quartermaster Corps, Signal Corps, Transportation Corps, Judge Advocate General's Corps, Finance Corps, Adjutant General's Corps, and the Chaplain's Corps.

Assembly Shows Summer School Attendance Good

West Texas State College held its first and only assembly for this first summer session Monday. Dr. James P. Cornette asked all those who were attending WT for the first time to hold up their hands. A large number of hands went up.

During the first two days of registration it looked as if attendance was going to be lower than it usually is during the summer sessions. Dr. Cornette pointed to this fact and said that it looked as if people had learned they could register after the two day registration period was over.

No figures were released but by Monday morning it appeared that the summer school attendance would be as high as usual or possibly a little higher.

Dr. James Russell and Dr. Walter Juniper were introduced. Each made a short talk concerning his work with the college. Bill R. Lee, a new member of the faculty who is head of publications and publicity, and W. A. Moore of the speech department were introduced. Mr. Moore told of the work that the Palo Duro Players are doing.

An announcement was made concerning a watermelon feast which the school observes at the beginning of the second summer session. Following the announcement that the feast would be held as usual, Dr. Cornette pointed out the importance of the ROTC unit to begin at West Texas State this fall.

W. J. Wooten Completes 34 Years Of Theater Management in Canyon

A 34 year chapter of the movie business was completed in Canyon last Friday, June 6, by W. J. Wooten, owner of the Olympic and Varsity Theaters. Mr. Wooten has seen the industry grow from a swaddling business into one of the nation's richest enterprises.

Some of the early day box office attractions recalled by Mr. Wooten were Tom Mix, Hoot Gibson, and Harry Carey. Western pictures were much more popular than any others of this time. The big day for the movies was on Saturday. On Sundays the theater doors were closed and the workers took the day off.

The name of the first theater Mr. Wooten operated in Canyon was the Olympic. It was located just east of the present telephone building. The theater was purchased from Dye, Ford and Rogers who had a large string of theaters located in the small towns of the Panhandle. They wanted to get rid of the theaters in the smaller towns and move to Wichita Falls. They succeeded in doing this.

Business was carried on in the building east of the telephone building for the next seven years. In 1926 the present building which houses the Olympic Theater on the north side of the square was constructed. The showman recalls that the movie business was good until the crash of '29.

As the depression went from bad to worse there were times, the theater owner said, when he didn't know from one week to the next whether or not he would be able to keep operating. He said that business started picking up just before Franklin D. Roosevelt was elected president. After Roosevelt was elected, business continued to get better.

The showman recalls that one of the biggest steps to advance the movie industry was taken when sound pictures replaced the silent films. This revolutionary change came about in 1929 to give the movies a badly needed weapon to battle the depression.

Another shot in the arm was given the industry about 1934 with the advent of bank night. Mr. Wooten explained that this practice is still being carried on in some places only now it is known as cash night. This practice is one of giving away cash prizes with the winners being determined by some type of drawing. The chance at this money induced more people to come to the shows, but today the federal government has placed several restrictions upon this practice.

In 1948 Mr. Wooten added the Varsity Theater at the east end of town for the convenience of the people in that area and the college students. At present a drive-in movie, the kind that is rapidly becoming popular, is being constructed. This project is expected to be completed sometime in the late summer or early fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Melton and son of Levelland spent Sunday in the T. M. Thurmon home. Norma Dean Thurmon accompanied them home for a visit there.

Ira Burgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Ford Burgan, is visiting in the Lee McLoury home in Plainview.

Plan Being Laid For Recreation Of Local Youth

A summer recreation program for Canyon is in the process of being planned. At present the Chamber of Commerce is planning to operate the program. Boys and girls who are interested in swimming and baseball should come by the Chamber of Commerce and sign up for the recreation program. Swimming is to be conducted in the morning hours and baseball in the afternoon.

At present these two sports are the only ones that are being planned. Youngsters having any suggestions about other types of games or recreation should feel free to make those suggestions at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The program is for the youngsters of the community and it is the desire of those in charge to make it as pleasant as possible. New problems are being faced due to the termination of the full time recreation program which was carried on last summer. These problems will require the complete cooperation of all the youngsters in this area who are interested in the recreation program for this summer.

Coach Floyd Murry has volunteered his services in supervising the summer recreation program. The detailed plan for the program is now being made but will depend, to a great extent, upon the boys and girls who will be actively engaged in the recreational activities for the summer months.

Flag Day Was the Subject of Joe Findley at Rotary

Joe Findley spoke at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday, giving a history of flags and the development of the American flag.

Flags are symbols under which a people rally. The first recorded flag was that of a blacksmith's apron in 1800 B. C. in Persia.

Flags were introduced in the colonies of America by the first settlers. When the Revolutionary War started there was no universal flag, but each colony had its own emblem. The first flag appeared in 1777, with a variety of changes from time to time until Congress adopted the standard flag in 1818 limited to 13 stripes and a star for each state.

The legends of "Old Glory" and "Betsy Ross" were traced by the speaker.

Win Matsler stated that Randall county was one of the five Panhandle counties which failed to send grain to starving Asia in 1951. The Rotary Club was asked to name a representative who would meet with the county organization Thursday night.

Bill Wilson was named to put on a play for the visiting presidents and secretaries at the June 23rd district assembly. The Canyon Rotary Club will meet Monday noon at the College Cafeteria for the weekly luncheon that week.

Visitors were: Ross Rogers, Emil Myers, Red Bryan, T. A. Cartwright, Arthur Cox, Oran Thomas, Forrest Barnes, E. C. Waggoner, A. J. Folley, Van A. Ulms, all of Amarillo; Glenn H. Wright of Erick, Okla.; Thos. J. Larkins of Cedar Falls, Iowa; Bill Haggard, Bill Lee and Jack T. Hughes, all of Canyon.

FATHER'S DAY cards and gifts at Warwick's.

Miss Ellyne Morris of Tavares, Florida, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Shephard and daughter, Jane, of Mt. Pleasant, Florida, spent Monday night in the home of Mrs. E. D. Harrell. The entire party went to Palo Duro Canyon to see the sunrise Tuesday morning. The visitors were quite favorably impressed by the canyon. Miss Morris and Miss Shepard are enroute to jobs at Old Faithful Inn, Yellowstone Park.

Little Misses Louan and Sulon Black of Albany are visiting in the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Wallace.

Buffaloes and Red Raiders To Play Through '55

The gridiron feuding and fighting between the West Texas State College Buffaloes and the Texas Tech Red Raiders will continue until 1955 even if Tech gets into the Southwest Conference before that time. The games will be played as the result of an agreement between the two coaches, Frank Kimbrough and DeWitt Weaver. They have agreed to continue the present contract through 1955. All games between these two teams are to be played in Lubbock.

It was also learned early this week that Coach Kimbrough plans to use the straight-T formation next fall instead of the winged-T that he has been using. The change is being made to give the Herd an advantage over the opposition since the Herd's speed is not believed to be of such a nature that the winged T could be operated efficiently.

The recent approval of WT for an ROTC unit is a great help in the outlook for a good gridiron team. Now the boys will know where they stand with their draft board. Their sports careers can be carried on without fear of being interrupted by military life.

Dr. and Mrs. Houston Bright have returned from a visit with his mother, Mrs. J. R. Bright, at Sturgis, Kentucky. They also visited with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. L. Truitt. Enroute home they visited in Nashville, Tenn., with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Newman and family.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Black were in Ft. Sumner, N. M., Sunday for the dedication of a new Methodist Church building. Mrs. John Allen, former partner of Mr. Black, is one of the leading business women of that section of New Mexico, and a heavy contributor to the new church building.

An Insecticide Bomb Blamed in Mystery Blast

Sheriff M. E. Cantrell, working with W. J. Caserta, supervisor of lake projects for the Soil Conservation Service, recently conducted an investigation of a mysterious object which exploded in a fire at Buffalo Lake and broke four toes on the foot of a 10 year old Amarillo Negro. The investigation showed that the "bomb" was a can which had contained insecticide.

The accident occurred while the boy and his father were fishing. They had a fire on the edge of the lake and the boy found the metal object in the edge of the water. He placed the object on the fire and was trying to kick it out when the explosion occurred.

The rusty container which had the end blown out was taken to Amarillo. The insecticide was explained as the type using a freon gas to expell the dusting powder. The gas has a low boiling point, it was pointed out, and therefore the container only had to remain on the fire a moment before exploding.

Sheriff Cantrell said that he made a thorough check on Canyon stores. He was not able to find any insecticide being sold in that type of can, he reported. He added his belief is that this type of can has not been used for several years.

Clearing up the mysterious explosion was desired to reassure the fishing public that everything possible is being done to protect them from mishaps while spending recreation time at the lake. The injured lad is recovering at his home in Amarillo.

Just Between You, Me and . . . the Gatepost

Probably one of the finest things that could possibly happen to the vicinity of Canyon occurred last week with the announcement of the approval of West Texas State College for an ROTC unit. This move will alleviate the dark cloud of doubt concerning many male students' military status and allow them a greater knowledge about what to expect in the future.

Although there will be 25 colleges and universities approved for ROTC work, West Texas State has an advantage over many of the other schools. No doubt that the ROTC program will be more popular here than in many of the other schools. This is because the student will have a choice about the branch of service he enters after graduation. He gets this choice on the basis of the evaluation of his military abilities but many of the other schools offer only one course.

Another phase of the college boys' lives that will be affected by the ROTC program is the athletic activity. Boys who enter the military field through the ROTC program will not have to worry about a call to the service. They will be free to pursue their sports and studies as they desire. This inducement will bring many students into WT and will also serve as a stopgap in holding many of the students who are already in college.

---

There are some in town who are wondering whether Jack Haley has a powerful golf stroke or has been doing some practicing in town. Art Roberts found one of Jack's golf balls in the street in front of his welding shop. The question seems to be: Did Jack drive the ball here from the golf course or has he been doing a little spare time practicing here in town?

The golf tournament which is now being conducted by the Canyon City Club has caused several of the local golfers to give a little more attention to their game. Early last week Clark Jarnagin held a few strokes edge over O. W. (Bud) Parker, Jr., but was worried about maintaining that lead. Other men who were giving a bit more thought to their golf game were Charlie Donnell, Gene Davis, James Cole and Bill Sternenberg.

All of the local people who are interested in good entertainment using local talent, should not miss the plays being given this summer at the Branding Iron Theater. A play a week for two more weeks after this one is scheduled. When you stop a moment and give this some thought you'll realize what a difficult routine this is to follow. In order to keep the plays going at this rate, those working on them must work up and prepare one play while giving another. It's a double dose of work but it's being done very nicely. You'll agree that it is when you see a few of the performances that are being carried on down there. For a good reserved seat just pick up your telephone and call Mr. Moore at the Speech Department at West Texas State College.

G. W. Webb, local weather observer, has given us one of the old timers' signs for predicting the weather here in the Panhandle. It seems that if it rains on the first day of June, there will be a rain somewhere in sight during each 24 hour interval of the month for that year. Don't know of anyone who has watched the sign closely but roughly speaking it seems to have worked out fairly well up to this point this year. The old timers did not predict the weather, they merely had their signs which they watched for the desired fulfillment.

Beth Kimbrough Left Sunday To Study Painting in France

BETH KIMBROUGH

Beth Kimbrough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kimbrough, is going to spend the summer in Paris, France, studying drama and art at the Baylor Art School. This is the first summer that Baylor University has had a branch in a European country.

She left Sunday for Dallas. From Dallas she flew to New York to meet the other students going with the group. While in New York they stayed at the Paramount Hotel and attended television shows.

The group is to sail from New York June 10 on the S. S. Waterman. The ship will dock at Le Havre, France, on the 18th of this month. They will go from Le Havre to Paris by train.

Directors of the school are Mr. and Mrs. Reynold Arnould and Professor Paul Baker of the Baker University Theatre. Mr. and Mrs. Arnould teach six months of each year at Baylor. Mr. Arnould is a well-known painter and has had one-man exhibitions of his work recently in Rome, Italy, as well as in his own country, France.

Courses taken by the students will include visits to museums and artists' studios. Also they will attend at least four plays or plans are being made to be at the Reviera during Texas Week in July.

The Baylor students will live for one week in a castle near Paris for the purpose of landscape painting in the vicinity.

They will return to the United States by way of Southampton, England, sailing August 27 on the S. S. Zuiderkruis. They will arrive in New York September 4.

For the past year Miss Kimbrough has been teaching in the drama department at Baylor and was general manager of the Baylor Theatre Children's Playhouse.

Southwestern Exterminators Win Approval

It is a known fact that one of the most annoying hazards of many businesses and housekeepers is that of the ordinary household pests such as ants, roaches, bedbugs, silverfish, spiders, flies, termites, rats and mice.

Dave Blaker, owner of Southwestern Exterminators, 1602 Fillmore in Amarillo, has made a complete study of every branch of vermin and pest control and has considerable success in the complete eradication of millions of these pests.

They are equipped with every modern device for the elimination of all forms of vermin and pest life, plus the knowledge necessary to pursue their profession to a point of keeping the premises free from these pests.

Mr. Blaker is a member of the State and National Pest Control Association, which has the highest standards for membership and he has a reputation for complete thoroughness in his work and has been in business since 1932.

The men doing the work are courteous, well informed and can advise on methods to be used in keeping the home or business building free from pests once they have been eliminated.

The cost of this service is modest and Mr. Blaker is always happy to consult with prospective clients on their problems with, of course, no obligation.

Venereal Drop in State Encourages Health Authorities

Public health workers are encouraged by the drop in venereal disease, but are wary of future developments should persons feel that the danger is past, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

As long as the infections remain among a relatively small segment of the population the danger of spread to non-infected persons exists. Dr. Cox declares that everyone should avail himself of the free information concerning the nature, cause and spread of venereal diseases.

There is little reason for a person who becomes infected with a venereal disease today to suffer without treatment. Modern "wonder drugs," principally penicillin, have made possible the rapid treatment and cure of most cases. Just a few years ago treatment required one and a half to two years care by a specialist.

Despite the encouraging progress against venereal diseases it must be recognized that many undetected cases still exist. Our over crowded mental institutions are populated with thousands of patients with syphilitic mental disorders. Last year 431 persons died of syphilis.

Dr. Cox states that this personal and public health problem is still with us and everyone should join in the fight against the venereal diseases.

Statehouse

by HUGH WILLIAMSON

I'm going to guess that there are a lot of Texans who failed to pay their poll tax, but who now wish they had.

The greatest show on earth is about to begin — did begin, rather, with the precinct, county, and state conventions — and there are many Texans who have no ticket.

Can't get any from the scalpers, either.

Maybe we could get more people to vote by selling the poll tax at the time and place of casting the ballot.

Like football tickets.

Trouble is, the deadline for getting on the poll tax list comes too early — before people start getting interested in politics, and before the candidates hit the campaign trail.

Even so, there will probably be a record vote this year.

You get a lot of balloting for your dollar and six bits. You get a choice on all kinds of offices: city, county, state, and national.

Everything from constable to president.

Furthermore, you can have the fun of deciding whether you want to be a Democrat (and if so what kind) or a Republican (and if so what king).

Maybe later you'll have a chance of getting into a third party.

Actually, you might describe the present situation as one in which you have your choice of four parties, the Loyalists and Conservative Democrats and the Taft and Eisenhower Republicans.

The national conventions of both major parties are coming up in July, and what will happen then is anybody's guess.

I'm not going to guess.

I haven't tried to predict a political campaign since Pappy O'Daniel was elected governor.

Well, you get a vote in the July primaries, and on the same day (poll tax in hand) you can go to another precinct convention like the one on May 3.

By the time of the July convention, the national Democratic convention at Chicago will be over, so you can express yourself as to whether you like the nominee and the platform.

Come August, there will be the run-off primaries and another set of county conventions.

There will be another state convention in September, and that's when the delegates will decide who's going to be in charge of the party's affairs for the next two years.

Control will be in the hands of the State Democratic Executive Committee, which is a powerful group.

How powerful such a group can be was well demonstrated in the Republican state convention at Mineral Wells, where the Taft forces had the whip hand.

It didn't make any difference about the number of Eisenhower supporters. The Taft people had the party machinery.

In November comes the general election, and you can then decide what you want to do about voting for a president of the United States. (By choosing your electors).

It seems like a lot of activity for a dollar and seventy-five, and maybe you think you don't have time for all this political stuff.

But you're in politics whether you like it or not.

If you don't think so look back and see how much income tax you paid.

Devin said that while attending the meeting he would serve on the executive committee.

Tomlinson - Williams Wedding Rites Read in Memorial Chapel in Impressive Candlelight Service Friday Evening

MRS. KENNETH B. WILLIAMS

Memorial Chapel on the campus of West Texas State College was the scene Friday evening, June 6, for the marriage of Miss Norma Jean Tomlinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tomlinson, Canyon, and Airman Second Class Kenneth B. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Williams of Plainview. Olin Huff from the Church of Christ, Dimmitt, officiated.

A nuptial prelude played by Mrs. Glen Dowlen, organist, included "I Love You Truly" by Bond, "Because" by D'Hardelot, "At Dawning" by Cadman, "Indian Love Call" by Debussy, "Through the Years" by Yoeman. Miss Fern Carver of Amarillo sang "O Promise Me" by De Kooen and "I Love Thee" by Grieg. As a benediction she sang "The Wedding Prayer." Background music during the exchange of vows was "Claire de Lune" and "O Perfect Love." Traditional marches were played for the processional and recessional.

The double ring ceremony was read before a white satin draped altar which was centered with a large basket of white roses and edged with garland of huckleberry flanked with cathedral candelabra and baskets of white gladioli.

Wearing dresses identical to the bridesmaids', candle lighters, Miss Ann Belt, cousin of the bride from Lockney, and Miss Nancy Lou Wilson of Waxahachie, carried candle nosegays of pink asters.

Mrs. Richmond Hales attended her sister as matron of honor. Her dress was styled with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt, off the shoulder, sleeveless, white embroidered organdy over pink taffeta, ballerina length, with matching mitts. She carried a crescent arrangement of marconi daisies centered with lace wedding bells.

Bridesmaids were Misses Jo Ann Merriman of Amarillo and Miss Nancy Kay Tomlinson, sister of the bride. Their dresses were identical with that worn by the matron of honor and the candlelighters. They wore shepherdess hats made of pink organdy trimmed in seed pearls and carried crescent arrangements of marconia daisies centered with white lace wedding bells.

Don Burnett of El Paso was best man. Serving as ushers were Richmond Hales of Canyon and Kevin Williams, brother of the bridegroom.

Escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was attired in an Emily gown of antique white bridal satin cut on princess lines with a deep yoke and long fitted sleeves of shirred nylon net coming to a point. The yoke and bodice were joined with a band of imported Point de Lyons lace. The band of lace was repeated where the full skirt joined the bodice and extended the full length of the skirt on each side of the cathedral train. The opening down the back was joined with tiny satin covered buttons. Her finger-tip veil of imported nylon English illusion with a hand-rolled edge was attached to a hand-made Point de Lyons lace cloche studded with rhinestones and seed pearls. She carried a hand-made lace handkerchief from France. The dress and handkerchief had been used by her sister, Mrs. Richmond Hales, in her wedding. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of lilies of the valley centered with a white hybrid cattalego orchid.

Mrs. Tomlinson, mother of the bride, wore a white embroidered, grey organdy suit. Her hat was straw covered with grey sequins. Her gown was complimented with dusty rose accessories and a corsage of dusty rose gardenias. Mrs. Williams, mother of the bridegroom, wore a mauve paper shantung suit. Her hat was of navy velvet and her other accessories were navy. Her corsage was white gardenias.

Folowing the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents, honoring the couple. The serving table, laid with a hand-made organdy and linen cloth, was centered with an arrangement of pink rhodendrons, flanked by white tapers in double crystal candelabra. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

The three-tiered wedding cake and punch were served by Mrs. Iverson Leake and Mrs. John Williams. Other members of the house party were Mrs. Olin Huff, Mrs. J. R. Belt, Mrs. Oscar Golden, Mrs. Gwen McFarlin, Mrs. W. F. Haggard, Miss Dorthy Brown, and Mrs. Duane Williams. Mrs. Jay Tatum presided at the guest book at the wedding and reception.

For her wedding trip to the Grand Canyon in Arizona the bride traveled in a light brown tiny checked Jewel suit of sharkskin, shantung lined. Her natural straw poke-bonnett hat was trimmed in dusty rose violets with rhinestones and brown velvet roses in the back. Her scarf and gloves were of dusty rose. Her bag and shoes were beige shantung mesh and she wore white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Williams is a graduate of W. T. High School and atteded Abilene Christian College and Draughn's Business College. Before her marriage she was employed by J. C. Hamilton Co. of Amarillo.

Mr. Williams received his B. S. degree from Abilene Christian College in 1950 and has since been serving in the U. S. Air Force at Connally Air Base, Waco. The couple will live in Waco.

Lions Devote Program Time To Mock Trial

The Lion program last Wednesday was a variation of the well known Kangaroo Court. One of the members, Gene Davis, manager of M. E. Moses 5 and 10 cent store, was singled out. A number of charges were filed against him but the case ended in a hung jury.

Clark Jarnagin was prosecuting attorney and Bill Knighton was defense attorney. The prosecuting attorney said the defendant was guilty of such charges as not securing members for the Lions Club and improper conduct. The defendant was even accused of the unpardonable Lion sin of visiting a Rotary Club.

Other attacks upon the defendant included such charges as his being sick and having Dr. J. L. Markham, local veterinarian, as his physician; that he attended a beer party; that after one of the directors' meetings he threatened one of the witnesses with a knife and that he was guilty of operating questionable enterprises. The prosecuting attorney described Davis as being the kind of Lion who ate, belched and went back to his 5 and 10 cent store.

Defense Attorney Bill Knighton called upon several witnesses to prove that his client was a desirable Lion and a useful citizen. Davis was described as being a key member, then a double key member and finally a triple key member of the club. The defense attorney explained about Davis leaving his business to attend the Lions convention for the election of the Lion District Governor in El Paso. While on this trip it was pointed out that Davis visited Juarez and paved the streets of that Mexican town with good old American Lionism.

Charlie Donnell was selected as the judge and he wore a robe and a wig to make it official. The other members of the club were jurors. After the case ended in a hung jury the judge dismissed the court.

Guests entertained by the Lions included Lion Biggers of Skellytown, Lion Glenn Waggoner, secretary-manager of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce who recently came from Spearman, and E. H. Prince of Amarillo.

LIPSTICK LOGIC
BY LOUISE ALLEN

Next Sunday finds Dad once more the unwilling center of attention. For almost 40 years now, he has been the more-or-less awkward recipient of special notice during one day each summer. This he lives through as best he can, looking forward with genuine relief to the blessed anonymity of the other 364 days in the year.

Since the advent of Father's Day, jokes at his expense have become almost as numerous as those with mother-in-law as a target. Most of these he has thought up himself, either as a roundabout dig at his spouse, or to point up his own earthbound status as family breadwinner.

Yet, contradictory as it may seem, today's father is in a more enviable position than was his great grandfather, who commanded a great deal more awesome respect. Still head of the house, Dad has no longer insists on the stern discipline which set the father of several generations ago apart from the rest of the family.

Once looked upon as an oracle, he is now just another family member. If he's fair and considerate, his opinions are valued; if he's unreasonable, his children soon learn ways to 'get around him.'

Not that he has been knocked off his pedestal. He's stepped off, of his own election. It's a more companionable place that he now holds in the family circle. A spirit of sharing, not one of law, and obedience or punishment, now binds father and child.

Probably that's why Father's Day continues. Even though Dad might prefer some other kind of recognition, he'll put on a first-rate show next Sunday, modelling pajamas, smoking a new pipe, eating a whole lemon meringue pie. If it's done in a spirit of affectionate sharing, he's for it. First thing he knows, he may actually enjoy Father's Day!

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT OF TEXAS FROM YOUR CONGRESSMAN

Walter Rogers

The Tidelands Veto

The veto of the tidelands bill by the President came as no surprise. The veto message reached the Senate at 2 o'clock on May 29th. At the time I was sitting in the Senate Chamber along with Congressman Poage, Ikard, Pickett, and Teague. We received some of the first copies of the message after it was delivered to the Senate.

The reason that the message went back to the Senate rather than the House of Representatives is because the bill that was finally passed was a Senate bill, S. J. Res. 20. The Senate was to have voted on the question of overriding the veto sometime between June 5th and June 10th under previous plans.

Should the Senate override the veto, the matter will then come to the House of Representatives, where there is no question about overriding the veto. That is, if the Senate overrides the veto, the tidelands question will finally be settled right.

Should the Senate fail to override the veto, the matter will not come back to the House of Representatives, and the tidelands legislation will have suffered another setback. I say "another setback" for the reason that a failure on the part of the Senate to override the veto does not mean that the issue is settled.

This fight will never be relaxed until this matter is settled right and these lands returned to their rightful owners. Much has been said about the present President of the United States being set in his ways and obstinate. Some say this is a basic Missouri trait. Be that as it may, I can tell the President of the United States and all other interested parties that they don't know the meaning of the phrase "set in their ways" or the word "obstinate" until they try to run over a bunch of Texans.

That is exactly what they have done and they can get ready to take their medicine. If they think for one minute that we as Texans have ever entertained the idea of submitting to this rank and flagrant misuse of property rights and this legalized larceny on the part of the Federal Government, they are in for the saddest awakening of their questionable careers.

The President's veto message clearly exhibits that the INFAMOUS GREED that prompted this attempted theft in the first instance is still the only grounds upon which they stand in their sordid attempt to justify an act that has no parallel in the criminal annals of this nation.

The tidelands steal that began with the reversal of position by Harold Ickes will go down in the history of this country as the greatest crime that was ever perpetrated by a government upon its patriotic and law-abiding citizenry. Nothing can ever erase the black mark caused by the warped philosophy that prompted centralized government scoundrels to make this raid.

It can, however, be dimmed by a full restoration of the property stolen, the acknowledgement that a wrong has been committed, a confession by these wrong-doers that they have violated the spirit and the word of the Constitution and the written law of this great land, and a humble request by each of them that they be allowed to re-dedicate their lives to the basic philosophy of truth, honesty and Americanism.

The House of Representatives stands ready, able, and willing to meet its responsibilities to the people of the coastal states who have been subjected to this unethical and ignominious treatment at the hands of the Federal Government. I only hope and pray that the Senate of the United States will permit the light of Truth to shine upon its chambers and measure up to the glorious traditions of fairness and justice so necessary for the survival of our union.

In my newsletter of last week I told you of some incidents concerning the tidelands question that indicate the complete lack of knowledge of the true issues involved.

The President's veto message reflects either a total lack of knowledge of the basic principles involved or a deliberate attempt to write around these basic principles and to justify an admitted wrong by question-begging tactics. That the entire tidelands steal was prompted and prosecuted by greed is revealed in the following paragraph contained in the veto message:

> "Until recent years little or no attention was paid to the question of who owned these lands under the open sea since they were for all practical purposes without value. But about twenty years ago oil began to be produced in substantial quantities from the submerged lands off the coast of California. Then, for the first time, the legal question of ownership became important and was given serious consideration."

Yes, the Federal Government never had title to these lands, never claimed title to these lands, and in fact denied that the Federal Government had title to these lands, until long after potential oil development became apparent. The states were permitted to make leases on these lands that were not questioned by the Federal Government, and all of the written law fully supported the state ownership.

It was when the vast riches in these lands began to be realized, long after the first oil production, that the scheming and conniving minds of a small group of men, prompted by greed and spurred on by a lust for power, conceived the trickery and the chicanery that finally resulted in the Supreme Court of the United States pulling out of the hat an unheard of theory of real property law and sovereign power that cast a cloud upon the title to every piece of privately owned property in the United States and its possessions.

Korean Veterans

The House passed and sent to the Senate H. R. 7656, a bill to take care of our veterans in the Korean War. This legislation is long past due, and we are all pleased that it has passed the House and is on its way to passage in the Senate. The delay in this much needed legislation was caused by the many abuses to which the veterans and the American taxpayers were subjected under the original GI Bill of Rights.

The process of uncovering and weeding out some of the features of the old GI bill that permitted unwarranted raids upon the public treasury consumed long and tedious hours in the Committee.

The vote in the House was 361 yeas, one nay, and two answering present. The one nay vote was cast by General Devereux, a member from Maryland. General Devereux is certainly not entitled to any criticism for his vote because it was not cast against the bill as such, but was a protest as to the manner in which the bill was brought up before the House.

His protest was because the bill was brought up under what is known as a "suspension of the rules." When a bill is brought up in this manner, the debate is limited to twenty minutes to the side and the bill cannot be amended. There are two amendments that I think should have gone on the bill, and General Devereux and I are in agreement on these two particular amendments.

Chinchillas . . . An Established Industry

Chinchilla breeding, although now comparatively new in Texas, is actually a 29-year-old multimillion dollar revival of an old, well established industry. The industry is backed by a strong national breeders association of over 8000 breeders and with the future well established by the organization of a pelt co-operative which stands ready to process, handle and sell these fine furs when the industry is able to produce enough chinchillas to meet the market demand.

That chinchilla breeding can be a profitable side line or business The J & J Chinchilla Ranch, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bristow, 1100 S. Grand in Amarillo, who offer for sale only the finest quality stock.

Chinchillas are hardy, healthy and clean . . . a pair can be fed for less than $5.00 per year and will live and thrive in any limit. They were originally brought from the Andes Mountains of South America (where they are now extinct) to this country and successfully made the transition of climates and seasons of the two continents on opposite sides of the equator.

At the present time the sale of chinchillas are confined to breeding stock only and no furs are for sale.

Visitors are always welcome at J & J Chinchilla Ranch and Mr. and Mrs. Bristow will go out of their way to answer every question in detail and point out the profits to be derived from this profitable and interesting business.

We suggest to our many readers that they call 3-1898 in Amarillo for an appointment to see their chinchilla herd. You will find it an interesting visit.

Amarillo Oil Mill Co. Boon to Area

No review of the agricultural interests of West Texas would be complete without mention of the Amarillo Oil Mill Company, manufacturers of a complete line of "RANCH HOUSE FEEDS" as well as cotton seed pellets, meal and cake, soy bean pellets and meal, and 21% protein range cubes. They are also buyers of Wheat, Milo and other grains.

"RANCH HOUSE FEEDS" are most efficient and contain only the purest ingredients and have proved their worth throughout the territory.

Major Corbyn Here Look at Familiar Sights in Canyon

Major R. C. Corbyn, wife and sons, spent the week end here looking over the sights in Canyon which were so familiar to them in 1943 when the Major was in charge of the Air Corps Training Unit at West Texas State. The Major is now out of uniform, and will move from Fort Worth to Tulsa in a few weeks. He recalls many people in Canyon, especially the late R. E. Baird with whom he became so well acquainted while here.

After the Training Unit was withdrawn from Canyon, Major Corbyn transferred to the Infantry and served for nine months in Korea, attempting to train the South Korean army. He expressed the opinion that 200 frontiersmen of pioneer days fully armed and equipped could run the whole Communist Army out of Korea. There is nothing wrong with the American soldiers, except the fact that they resent the handicaps under which they are fighting. The American troops resent being clay pigeons to be shot at, but are not allowed to fight back.

South Korea has a poor army, and the Chinese do not have their hearts in the fighting. The best soldiers at the front are the Turks, who saved the day in Korea when the threat of anniliation was eminent.

Major Corbyn can now say what is in his mind since he has retired from the service. He was elated that an ROTC unit has been established at West Texas State, and predicted that this will mean much to the future growth of the institution.

MAKES A DIFFERENCE

Teacher: "If your mother gave you a large apple and a small one and told you to divide with your brother, which would you give him?"

Johnnie: "Do you mean my little brother or my big brother?"

SCOTCH PLAID?

Customs Officer: "I thought you said this trunk contained nothing but old clothes. What is this whisky doing in it?"

Tourist: "That's my night-cap."
